User Manual

Purpose

Destroy the Monday Morning Quarterbacks while avoiding their gluttonous projectiles and advancing through four levels. On the fourth level, meet up with the ultimate critic of quarterbacks, Terry Bradshaw himself. Destroy him while avoiding his beer cans and other minions.

How to Play

Throw the football at the enemies using the arrow and pulsating circle to aim. Remember that there are many inputs that change the impact location of the football ,viz. strafing left or right, increasing or decreasing the arc angle, moving the throw angle left or right, and increasing or decreasing the power of the throw (controls below).

Each enemy might require more than one hit with the football on the harder levels. Terry Bradshaw, the Boss, has his own life meter that appears when he does.

Avoid the Cheetos, belch bubbles, and beer cans by strafing left and right (controls below). Each time a projectile hits your quarterback, he loses a “down” as depicted in the left margin with the down markers.
